State/Local Fiscal Outlays for Illegal Aliens (average)

Because individual state numbers were difficult to estimate due to unreported data, these costs do not include judicial language interpretation services or state/locally funded public housing.

Most illegal aliens do not pay income taxes. Among those who do, much of the revenues collected are refunded to the illegal aliens via tax returns (via Fake/stolen SS# or tin#). Many are also claiming tax credits resulting in payments from the U.S. Treasury.

State arrests of illegal immigrants down

Source: <http://www.columbiatribune.com/news/2010/sep/23/state-arrests-of-illegal-immigrants-down/>

JEFFERSON CITY, MO (AP) — The number of illegal immigrants arrested by Missouri troopers has fallen significantly in the three years since the state began checking the residency status of everyone booked into jail.

The Missouri State Highway Patrol turned up an average of one illegal immigrant per day during the initial months after former Republican Gov. Matt Blunt ordered it to check the immigration status of everyone it incarcerated in August 2007, according to records obtained by The Associated Press.

But the number of illegal immigrants found by those checks declined by more than 40 percent in 2008 and an additional 30 percent in 2009, according to the patrol records. It has leveled off at that lower rate this year.

Missouri's gubernatorial directive was expanded to all police by a state law that took effect in August 2008 and has continued to be enforced since Democrat Jay Nixon became governor in 2009.
